

ENVIRONMENT AND QUALITY POLICY

Loxreal Engineering Adhesives is an Italian Company supplying, locally and worldwide, high quality adhesives and providing industrial solutions since the early Eighties. The company has two production sites in Cesano Maderno and Misinto, both located in the province of Monza and Brianza (Italy).

Loxreal production chain vertical integration allows the Company to customize products according to customers' needs, providing effective and efficient solutions.

The Management of the Company aims to pursue market competitiveness as well as customer satisfaction, with a policy of innovation and economic growth in the full respect of the environment.

As a part of its mission, Loxreal S.r.l. is committed to comply with UNI EN ISO 9001, ISO 14001 Standards and with specific sectoral legislation, in order to:

- meet the needs of the customers, being able to understand and to anticipate their needs, and to offer an up-to-date and innovative product range with the lowest environmental impact
- operate with the aim of reducing the pollution related to the company activities and preserve the surrounding environment
- promote the reasonable use of available resources and develop products with the lowest environmental impact
- promote the interests of local Communities and the whole society, actively cooperating with the stakeholders
- ensure the safety and health of its employees in their workplace, adopting appropriate technical and organizational measures.

The company key values are:

- Family: the company founded by Dott. Attilio Grossi is now managed by his sons, Paolo and Andrea, according to their father values.
- Clients: the company is strongly oriented to client satisfaction providing a wide range of products and customized services.
- Innovation: is the driver that allows the Company to develop competitive and innovative products.
- Sustainability: is the ability to achieve given objectives respecting existing Laws, the Environment and the Resources that work in the Company every day.

Loxreal continuous success is the result of the full commitment to pursue these values with perseverance and dedication.

Cesano Maderno, February 18th 2019

Managing Director
Andrea Grossi